

MANY KILLED IN MINE EXPLOSION

Between 100 and 120 Die
In Cincinnati Mine
Near Pittsburgh

RESCUE WORK DIFFICULT

Seventy-Eight Make Escap
But Are Badly Burned—
Few Able to Talk

SEVERAL BODIES RECOVERED

PITTSBURG, PA., APRIL 23.—The lives of one hundred miners, possibly 120, were snuffed out shortly after noon today when a disastrous explosion occurred in the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company at Finleyville, about twenty-seven miles southeast of this city. Over three score of workmen in the mine made thrilling escapes to the surface, crawling most of the time on their hands and knees through deadly gas fumes and over debris. A number sustained burns.

Up to 11 o'clock tonight seventy bodies of victims had been recovered. The bodies were located by rescuing squads of the United States Bureau of Mines, the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company and of the Pittsburgh Coal company.

As the rescuers found a body it was carried to the entries. None of the bodies, however, were brought to the open.

Preparations are being made to handle the dead. Box cars have been ordered to a mine siding. It is stated the victims will be taken from the mine at daylight tomorrow and shipped at once to Monongahela City, where they are to be prepared for burial.

Rescue work is hampered by aftershock. Fire which followed the explosion has been completely subdued, it is said.

PITTSBURG, APRIL 23.—Between 75 and 100 miners are believed to have lost their lives this afternoon as a result of explosion in the Cincinnati mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company at Finleyville, 27 miles from this city. From 75 to 78 men made their escape. Some of them were badly burned. The bodies of several victims have been recovered.

The mine is aflame. Rescue work is being carried on with difficulty owing to the fire and deadly fumes. The coal company maintains a rescue corps patterned after the mine force of the United States government. Aid from the federal experts it is said, was declined by the local company.

Few Able to Talk.
But a few of the miners who reached the surface were in condition to talk. From these little could be gained. Suffering from burns or fright the miners only knew that an explosion had occurred and that a large number were either killed by the explosion or asphyxiated by the after damp.

Several hours after the explosion several foreign miners crawled from one of the entrances of the mine. All were seriously burned. They could give no connected account of conditions in the mine or their individual experiences.

They all said that the "mine was full of dead people."

Business in Finleyville was suspended. The greatest excitement prevailed and practically the entire community rushed to the ill-fated mine.

Relatives of Miners Frantic.
Relatives and friends of the men beneath the surface were frantic. Many of them had to be restrained. After a time a guard was placed, completely surrounding the entrances to the mine and all persons except rescuers and mine officials were held at a distance. A gas explosion is thought to have caused the disaster, although this fact has not been exactly determined. Fire damp, it is said, may have been responsible. Of the known dead all are Americans. They are John Green, Thomas Carter, son of William Carter, superintendent of the mine, Robert Anderson, machine boss, Charles Hager and John Lake.

The explosion occurred between No. 1 and No. 2, right entries, 3,000 feet from the mouth of the mine.

The mine foreman stated that 179 mine went to work in the mine this morning.

ASSERTS COPPES MADE UP STORY OF MURDER

OPINION GIVEN BY THOMAS J. HICKEY
AFTER TALK WITH BOY

Declared Boy Had Been Fed on Yellow Back Novels and Probably Thinks Himself a Hero—To Reopen Investigation.

ELGIN, ILL., APRIL 23.—That Herman Coppel, 16 years old, said he killed Mrs. Manny Sleep and her two daughters solely for the notoriety he would secure from the statement was the assertion today of Thomas J. Hickey, state visitor at the St. Charles home for boys, made after a three hour talk with the youth in the county jail.

"There is a little doubt that the boy is lying," Mr. Hickey said. "He has been fed on yellow back novels and probably imagines himself a hero. When he first was asked about the murder the temptation to hold the center of the stage appealed to his morbid fancy. He has not the viciousness to kill a rat."

"He has an immature imagination which would enable him to concoct such a story as he has told officials."

There are in police history numerous instances where men have confessed to revolting deeds, apparently for the sake of a few days of notoriety. We are going to reopen the investigation and will exhaust every theory before we will be satisfied the boy shot Mrs. Sleep because she scolded him; shot her two daughters because they were eyewitnesses and threw the three bodies into a well."

State's Attorney Tyers announced today he would ask for the life penalty for the boy.

GOVERNOR DUNNE REMOVES WHEELER AND OTHER EMPLOYES

Civil Service Commission Preferred
Charges Against Several Deputy
Fish and Game Wardens.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Acting under the recommendation of the state civil service commission, Governor Dunne today removed State Game Commissioner J. A. Wheeler of Auburn. Col. John R. Marshall, deputy game warden, resigned on the ground that he had neglected their duties. Fish Commissioners S. P. Bartlett of Quincy, Richard R. Meents of Ashkum and Elmer E. Caldwell of Havana, members of the state fish commission, were today discharged by Governor Dunne.

The civil service commission preferred charges against Peter Rush, deputy fish warden at Belleville; Edward J. Briggs, deputy fish warden at Peoria, and Edward Bennett, deputy game warden at Danville. The commission removed J. E. McClure and Thomas Trowe, employed in the game department.

Senator Beall offered a resolution in the senate providing for the creation of a joint committee of three senators and six house members to be appointed to investigate the state game commissioner's department. Under the rules the resolution lies over one day.

Senator Beall explained that he offered the resolution at the solicitation of Dr. J. A. Wheeler, state game commissioner, who is courting the fullest investigation of his department.

SECRETARY OF STATE GOES TO SACRAMENTO

WILL WORK WITH CALIFORNIANS IN FRAMING ALIEN LAND LAW

Bryan Will Attempt to Co-operate
With Governor Johnson and Legislature As to Wisest Solution of Proposed Land Law.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 23.—After an hours conference at the white house tonight, President Wilson directed Secretary of State Bryan to proceed at once to Sacramento to co-operate with Governor Johnson and the members of the California legislature in framing a law regarding the ownership of land by aliens that would not conflict with the treaty obligations of the United States, particularly with Japan. Mr. Bryan leaves there at 6:40 p. m. tomorrow and will arrive in Sacramento at 4:45 p. m. next Monday.

"I am going in the hope that we may be able to find the best solution of the difficulty," said Secretary Bryan tonight. "I feel sure that they in California will enter upon the work with the same spirit of co-operation as the president and I do. I am hopeful, indeed that we will be able to arrive at the wisest solution."

Earlier in the day the president had telegraphed Governor Johnson and the presiding officers of the two branches of the California legislature explaining that it was difficult to handle the situation by telegram and asked if it would be agreeable to have the secretary of state confer in person with the California authorities. Both houses and the governor promptly replied that the proposal was agreeable to them. The resolutions adopted by the senate and house of assembly were identical and that of the latter as received at the white house read:

"While this assembly respectfully maintains the right of the legislature of the state of California to legislate on the subject of land ownership it is satisfactory to have the secretary of state of the United States to visit Sacramento for the purpose indicated in the president's telegram."

Governor Johnson's message to the president was as follows:

"I shall at all times be pleased to consult with the secretary of state and it will be entirely agreeable to me to have the secretary visit Sacramento as suggested in your telegram."

Mr. Bryan also received a personal message inviting him to be the guest of the Governor and Mrs. Johnson while in California, which he accepted tonight. He will be accompanied only by Robert Rose, for many years his confidential secretary. During his absence John Basset Moore, counselor for the department will be acting secretary of state.

MAYOR GAYNOR PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS

Declares There is Not a Better,
Cleaner, Nor a More Enlightened
Press in the World.

New York, April 23.—"There is not a cleaner or better press in the world, nor a more enlightened one," Mayor Gaynor paid this tribute to American newspapers tonight at the fifth annual dinner of the Daily Newspaper association attended by several hundred representatives of the press in all parts of the country. The mayor emphasized the difference between newspapers which lead to a community's enlightenment and the "corrupt" and "ragging" press that abuses and denounces public officials.

"The proprietor is the root of all evil in newspaper work," he declared. "If you leave the news reporter and editor alone they will do all right. They will do nobody an injustice. But when the proprietor marks out a certain policy and the staff at the city hall and the court house and everywhere are informed of that policy and told that they must bring in the news with the coloring of that policy, why then the newspapers become what they never intended to be—the exponent of the mere proprietors."

ZYBSKO DEFEATS LEMARIN

Chicago, April 23.—Stanislaus Zybsko tonight defeated Constant LeMarin at the Coliseum in two straight falls. The Pole secured the first fall in 53 minutes and put his man down a second time in 43 minutes, using a toe hold both times.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary it is understood that Frank Gotch will meet the winner, probably on July 4th.

After he had introduced the big wrestler Referee Ed Smith announced all bets off.

No reasons for cancelling bets was given. Assistant Superintendent of Police Schuetzler was at the ringside prepared to stop the bout if he saw either of the wrestlers "stalling."

REORGANIZATION PERFECTED.

Springfield, April 23.—At a meeting of the state board of education today temporary reorganization was perfected, this being necessary because of the death of Professor P. R. Walker, Rockford, who was president of the board.

Charles L. Capen, of Bloomington was chosen temporary president and J. Stanley Brown, of Joliet, was made temporary vice-president. Professor Blair continues to act as ex-officio secretary of the board.

ILLINOISANS PAY TRIBUTE TO DOUGLAS

Speeches Laudatory of "Little Giant" Made In Joint Session

GOV. DUNNE PRESIDES

Judge Robert Douglas Addresses Assemblage, Speaking Feelingly of Grandfather

EVENING SESSION IS HELD

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., APRIL 23.—Illinoisans regardless of party to day paid tribute to Stephen A. Douglas, the occasion being the centennial of the "Little Giant's" birth. Both houses of the legislature met in joint session and with galleries crowded with visitors and the platform filled with distinguished citizens, speeches laudatory of Douglas were made.

Governor Dunne presided and made a minute speech, calling attention to the event, the assembly had gathered to celebrate the birth of the man who did more than any one individual with the single exception of Abraham Lincoln, to preserve the nation in the time of her greatest distress.

An eloquent prayer was delivered by Rev. E. B. Rogers of Springfield, followed by the singing of "America" by a quartette.

Douglas' Grandson Speaks.
Hon. Robert D. Douglas of Greensboro, N. C., grandson of the "Little Giant" was given an ovation when he was presented by Governor Dunne.

The assemblage arose and applauded the distinguished guest who so greatly resembles his illustrious grandfather.

Judge Douglas expressed the keen appreciation of his father and himself for the invitation coming from the people of Illinois.

Judge Douglas spoke feelingly of his distinguished grandfather, and cited many instances showing his great love for his country. His last message to his sons, then in Washington Judge Douglas said was: "Tell them to support the laws and uphold the constitution."

Senator Reed Gives Address.
United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, made a humorous and happy address with friendly criticism of Governor Dunne, Senators Sherman and Lewis and others.

Senator Reed referred eloquently to the American manhood. Both Lincoln and Douglas, he said, were accused of being traitors and were called other bitter names, but in the sober after judgment we know both were made of pure gold.

Governor Dunne read a telegram from Former Senator Shelby M. Culbertson at Washington expressing his deep regret that he could not be present.

William L. Davidson of Lewistown Illinois, a personal friend of Stephen A. Douglas spoke briefly and eloquently of the "Little Giant", and paid high tribute to Lincoln.

At the conclusion of Mr. Davidson's address, Governor Dunne announced that owing to the length of the program it had been decided to have an evening session, at which Senators Sherman and Lewis would speak.

Federal Governments and States.
Senator Sherman devoted the greater portion of his speech to an exposition of the rights of the federal government and the states in their relation to each other. He pointed out that "this republic is the child of successful revolution," that no one of thirteen original states could have won its battles alone, and that "independence for all was the result of union for all."

"I have followed the problems of peace, and to save the nation it was necessary to make the nation more powerful, more capable, more secure. This was done by uniting all under one great charter and that was adopted by states."

"The states were the unit of creation. It was neither created nor adopted by the people in Massachusetts. The beginning of all government was in the state. They yielded certain of their sovereign powers to the union. Within the scope of those powers there are no state boundaries, no superior authority nor state rights. There are solidarily, a single people and sovereignty to the remotest limits of the United States territory."

The construction of a granted power ought to be broad enough to apply to changed conditions inseparably connected with and a vital part of subjects that lie within the direct expression of the text of the granted power, such conditions so changed being within the spirit though not within the letter of the text. It is this liberal construction that gives a written constitution the elasticity to respond to Progressive needs without its violation or destruction. Construction cannot write new powers in the constitutions neither in the letter or spirit of those already there."

Senator Sherman spoke of slavery as issue of anti-bellum days, of Dred Scott decision and of the Douglas effort of Malta.

FIREMEN WIN THEIR FIGHT FOR INCREASE

ARBITRATION BOARD AWARDS IN-CREASE OF 10 TO 12 PER CENT

Demand For Two Firemen On Large
Engines is Denied Except in Cases of Necessity—Award Will Cost
Eastern Railroads Huge Amount.

NEW YORK, APRIL 23.—Railroad firemen are granted an increase in pay estimated at from 10 to 12 per cent by the award of the Erdman act arbitration board in their case handed down tonight. Other claims of the firemen are allowed, but the demand for two firemen on large locomotives is denied except in case of necessity.

Another request for which the firemen fought, namely the standardization of wages based on the weight of locomotives on drivers, was granted, although the award provide that all wages that were higher or conditions that were better than fixed in the award shall not be interfered with. This provision affects a number of railroads. The firemen were also relieved of the duty of cleaning engines.

The award is considered in the nature of a compromise, as the firemen asked an increase estimated in the neighborhood of 15 per cent. The total amount of wages paid the firemen who number about 35,000 is $29,000,000 so that the increase of from 10 to 12 per cent will cost the railroads from $2,900,000 to $3,480,000 annually. The award is effective May 4th, this having been in accordance with the provisions of the Erdman act under which the board was appointed.

Under the decision ten hours or less or less or one hundred miles or less shall constitute a day's work in all classes of service.

Thinks Decision Fair.
Peoria, Ill., April 23.—President Carter of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, when informed of the decision handed down by the arbitration board said:

"The decision is fair and perhaps the increase in wages is as great as could be expected under arbitration. Usually arbitrations are only a compromise at their best. I feel sure that the eastern firemen will greatly appreciate the uniformity of the wage established by the award."

I. S. S. STATION AT DANVILLE THREATENED BY FLAMES

Burning Factory Threatens Office
Building and Hotel Adjoining.

Danville, Ill., April 23.—The Illinois Traction System station and office building and the Plaza Hotel were threatened by a fire which this afternoon destroyed the upper story of a building in South Vermillion street adjoining them. It originated in the Gasthof Artificial Decoration factory and fanned by a high wind for a while looked formidable but was confined to the one building. The traction system books and records were removed from the offices and for over two hours the operating forces were smoked out. Several time window casing and curtains in the hotel windows caught fire, but at a time when the hotel appeared doomed the roof of the burning structure caved in and removed the danger.

FIVE MINERS KILLED AND MANY INJURED

Butte, Mont., April 23.—Five miners were killed and nine injured in an accident at the old shaft of the Leonard mine of the Anaconda Copper company today. William Peters lost control of the hoisting engine as he was lowering two cages of men into the mine. Both cages dropped to the dump, one falling 2,200 feet and the other 800. The engine went to pieces, wrecking the house and throwing pieces of iron and steel hundreds of feet.

One piece of wreckage struck a miner, killing him instantly. The other men killed outright were on the cage that dropped from the surface.

DIED OF NATURAL CAUSES.

St. Louis, Mo., April 23.—Autopsies today on the bodies of Mrs. Ernestine Kommichau and of her daughter, Zelma, which were found immured in cement in the basement of their home Thursday convinced the post mortem physicians that both women died of natural causes.

This agrees with the story told by Miss Marie Kommichau, a surviving daughter, who said her mother and sister died of natural causes, but that she buried them in the basement because they had a fear of interment in cemeteries.

The examining physician reported to the coroner that the younger woman died of double pneumonia.

SHERMAN DEPARTS.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Senator Sherman left Springfield for Washington, returning by the way of Chicago. It is announced that Senator Lewis will remain in Springfield until Saturday morning and will not return to Washington until next week.

EURASTIC CONGRESS.

Valetta, Malta, April 23.—The fourteenth International Eurastic Congress was inaugurated today in the round church of Musta, where 10,200 people assembled. The papal legate, Cardinal Dominic Ferrata, delivered a stirring address in which he reviewed the religious history of Malta.

OUTLINES PROPOSED PEACE AGREEMENT

BRYAN WILL NEGOTIATE FOR INTER-NATIONAL PEACE COMPACT

Will Undertake Negotiations With Leading Powers With the Endorsement of President Wilson, it is Understood.

SACRAMENTO, CALIF., APRIL 23.—No further action will be taken on proposed alien land laws for this state until after the arrival in Sacramento next Monday of Secretary Bryan of the state department. This announcement was made tonight immediately upon the receipt of formal notification of the secretary's purpose to start from Washington tomorrow. Leaders of the legislature stated that there was no disposition to act hastily and that all were agreed it would be the part of courtesy to President Wilson to await the arrival of Mr. Bryan bearing the views of the federal government before the land bills were brought out on the floor of the senate. It was stated that the new amendments to the bill before the senate were in preparation, but would not be made public until Bryan had viewed them.

Washington, April 23.—Secretary Bryan's preliminary outline of his proposed international agreement for peace, which he laid before the senate foreign relations committee today, developed wide differences of opinion. Nevertheless, it was understood that with the endorsement of President Wilson the secretary of state will soon undertake to open negotiations with leading powers, for such treaties as his proposal contemplates. At the end of a two hour conference today with the senators, Secretary Bryan left the capitol saying he had an idea the committee would favorably consider an elaboration of his plan. Developments, however, indicated that some of the committee, Democrats and Republicans were opposed to the idea of United States binding itself by international agreement not to prepare for war during a specified time while a dispute was in progress, which is one feature of Mr. Bryan's plan. The secretary said he would confer with President Wilson soon and later make a public statement.

Briefly Secretary Bryan's plan, as he outlined it, is that the United States should make treaties under which disputes, even those involving "national honor or vital interests," would be submitted to an international board for inquiry, and that the disputing countries should agree to take no steps whatever toward preparation for war within a specified time, of six months or a year.

The extent to which such nations may have been "sounded" on the proposition was not fully disclosed to the committee. Secretary Bryan intimated, however, that one or two foreign powers viewed the plan with favor.

One argument advanced against Secretary Bryan's plan in the committee meeting today was that the United States, if it has such a treaty, as he proposes with one power, would be prevented from making preparations to meet the attack of another with which it might have no treaty. Furthermore some senators insisted that the United States could not afford to submit any questions or national honor or vital interest to a joint commission of investigation or to refrain for any stated time from making preparations to defend itself.

The majority of the committee expressed general approval, however, of the idea of making some form of agreements with other countries for the great development of peaceful relations. The details of Secretary Bryan's plan were not passed upon and members of the committee indicated that the senate would reserve its full authority to pass on every feature of the international agreement if any were perfected by the Wilson administration.

STRIKERS DISSATISFIED.

Brussels, April 23.—As the strikers so far have religiously obeyed all the directions of their leaders there seems to be no likelihood that they will disregard the desire to return to work unanimously expressed by the strike committee today. It cannot be denied that there is a certain amount of dissatisfaction particularly among the strikers and textile workers. Two thousand of the latter employed at Verriers met today and voted by an overwhelming majority to continue the strike.

WEATHER INDICATIONS AND TEMPERATURES.

Washington, April 23.—For Illinois—Showers and thunderstorms and cooler Thursday; Friday cloudy and cooler, preceded by rain, brisk and high south, shifting to north-west winds.

Temperatures.
Chicago, April 23.—Current, maximum and minimum temperatures today were:

BEGIN DEBATE ON TARIFF REVISION

Underwood Predicts Great Relief for Nation Through Pending Measure

FLAYS PROTECTIVE PLAN

Gardner Voices Republican
Skepticism of Country's Future
Under Democratic System

PROGRESSIVE VIEWS GIVEN

WASHINGTON, APRIL 23.—Beginning the debate in the house today on the Democratic tariff revision bill, Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, the majority leader, predicted great relief for the nation through the passage of the pending bill. Representative August P. Gardner of Massachusetts voiced Republican skepticism for the country's future under such a tariff system, and Representative Clyde Kelley of Pennsylvania, expressed the opinion of the new Progressive party on all tariff framed under the present system.

Critics Protective Tariff.

Mr. Underwood in outlining the bill severely criticized the protective tariff theory based on the cost of production differences at home and abroad and praised the competitive tariff theory, declaring it would strengthen American industry and send American products into the world's markets. He denounced the raising of taxes by the protective tariff as unjust, because he said, it taxed equally the workmen and the multi-millionaire. He pointed out that the rates in the pending bill were substantial reductions from the rates in the existing law and declared that the lower rates would result in a reduction in the cost of living to the consuming public. Mr. Underwood did not discuss the income tax feature of the bill, leaving that to Representative Hall of Tennessee who will speak later.

Gardner Cautions Democrats.

Representative Gardner admitted that the people of the nation had repudiated the Payne tariff, and that the Republican party had been dislodged from power because it had been too slow to recognize growing evils and permit a "far too powerful oligarchy" to run the government "in the way instead of the people's way. He cautioned the Democrats to live up to their promises to the people declaring that if they did not, the people would turn to the new Progressive party.

"Suppose that the Democrats fail to carry out their radical program," Mr. Gardner said, "would the country turn to our people? I doubt it. The people wish to try some of these new ideas and are willing to risk the consequences of their proving disastrous. The Republicans have not given them what they wish. If the Democrats follow our example it need surprise no one should the people turn to the Progressive party. In fact this is the only direction in which I can see a future for that party."

Present Progressive Views.

In presenting the views of the Progressive party, Representative Kelley criticized the present method of tariff legislation. He said that the Underwood bill, like every other tariff bill in the history of the country, "was framed on a basis of insufficient information and political and non-partisan log-rolling."

The solution of the tariff problem he declared could only be found in the adoption of the Progressive plan.

Must Convince Wilson.

Unless western senators opposed to free wool and free sugar for three years convince President Wilson that the Underwood tariff bill which the Democratic house caucus and he himself have endorsed, should be changed they will find these provisions stamped with the approval of the Democrats of the finance committee when the bill is brought before the Democratic caucus of the senate. For three hours to day six senators from states west of the Missouri river argued with a majority of the Democrats of the finance committee against free wool and free sugar. They were listened to attentively, and may be heard again. When they had completed their arguments, however, the committee had not changed its opinion that the bill as agreed to by the house caucus insofar as wool and sugar were concerned, would be presented in the same form to the senate. The Democrats of the committee who are examining the Underwood bill have not reached the sugar or wool programs but it was the plain intention of the majority to improve them. There was no talk of the "conference" to day of a bolt among the senators who opposed putting these articles on the free list. The opinion was expressed that those who appeared in behalf of the sugar and wool might see President Wilson within a few days and discuss the reasons for their opposition with him. The first plan of Senator Nowlands who brought about the conference was to have the president at day's hearing. At the suggestion of influential members of the finance committee however, this plan was abandoned.

forts to invoke popular sovereignty in his Kansas-Nebraska bill in which he proclaimed the right of the people in a territory to decide for themselves whether, on admission as a state, it should be free or slave. It was Douglas' hope to avoid conflict and restrain slavery by police regulation. Douglas failed in his great ambition, and his Kansas-Nebraska bill sank in the gulf of civil war.

"Here let us pause before Douglas, the American. In the pitiless discipline of defeat, he rose to the sublime heights where only patriots walk. When the flag fell at Sumpter, Douglas became the first, and greatest of war Democrats. He pledged his help to Lincoln to maintain the union and nobly he redeemed his promise. He saw armed rebellion lift its head against a people's government. The gathering squadrons of disunion hurried to the field. Amid the confusion his voice rang true 'There can be no neutrals in this war, only patriots and traitors.' In all the fierce contests that blazed out in this elemental period he kept himself unshotted on the doctrine that union must be preserved and its law enforced."

Senator Sherman concluded his address by quoting from Douglas' speech on judicial recall and the recall of judicial decision pertinent at this time.

POLITICIANS TESTIFY.
Chicago, April 23.—Politicians formed the majority of the witnesses called today before the grand jury to divulge what information they had to alleged frauds in the award of the $1,000,000 voting machine contract. They were before the jury but a few moments and gave very little information.

Roger Sullivan, former Democratic national committeeman, was one of the leading politicians called. He was in the grand jury about three minutes.

"I don't know anything about frauds," he said, as he emerged from the chambers. "If they had asked me about the election commission I would have told them something."

BRONSON GETS DECISION.
Indianapolis, Ind., April 23.—Ray Bronson of Indianapolis, received a popular decision over Hillyard Lang the Canadian welter weight, after ten rounds of fast fighting here tonight.

Oldham Likes Its Fun.

While Oldham cannot claim to have any one of the twenty-two biggest cotton mills in England, it is the premier cotton town for all that, since it is pretty safe to say that it has more cotton mills to the square mile than any other town in the world. The Oldham people are peculiar. They are steady and thrifty while they work, but, bent on pleasure, they want all they can get.

An Oldham family was returning from the annual holiday at Blackpool, and one of the daughters told the mother that they ought to have stayed another day.

"We couldn't, lass," said the mother. "T' brass is all done."

"Well," retorted the undutiful daughter, "it's all thy fault. I told thee to sell t' clock ere we started, and thou can't say as I didn't."

And this anecdote is a true illustration of the Oldham character, too, for it has been estimated that in one week of the year Oldhamers spend something like £300,000, about £2 per head of the population. That is the week of "Oldham Wakes," when the mills stop working and everybody chases pleasure.—London Globe.

Loie Fuller and Dumas Fil.

Loie Fuller was dancing at Les Folies Bergere, in Paris, when a friend from Haiti, M. Eugene Pouille, arrived in Paris and offered to take her to see Dumas at Marly. She tells about it in "Fifteen Years of a Dancer's Life."

"During the journey in the railway carriage M. Pouille taught me a French phrase which I was to say when Dumas extended his hand—'Je suis tres content de serrer votre main' (I am delighted to grasp your hand). And, of course, when the psychological moment arrived I phrased the words all askew. Instead of taking one of his hands I grasped both, and emphatically and with stress on each word I said: 'Je suis tres content de votre main serree' 'I am delighted with your close fistled hand'. I did not understand his reply, but my friend later told me that Dumas had replied, 'My hand is not close fistled, but I know what you mean, child, * * * and I open my heart and my hand in your service.'"

Habit of Formation.

Psychologists who have studied the subject tell us that in the psychology of success—success won by a man's own efforts—there are always two periods. There is the period of struggle. Every man who amounts to anything wins his way at first by will power and sheer endeavor. He has to use all his energy to climb the hard places determinedly, to fight and persevere. At first the battle is exhausting and often seems hopeless. But the thing to do is to hold on, day by day, through this first period. Then comes the period of habit formation. When the will has insisted upon certain acts or thoughts over and over again a path, so to speak, is cleared in the mind. Daily travel sets in over this path, and a habit is formed. Soon the thing that was so hard becomes easier and easier. The new method of thinking or acting becomes organized and solidified.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WAYS OF GYPSIES

These Queer People Are the Same All Over the World.

A RACE WITHOUT A NATION.

Originally From India, Now Outcasts In Every Land In Which They Live, They Are Natural Rogues, Without Laws, Literature or Religion.

The gypsies are the most unchanging race in the world. Wherever they are found—and they are found everywhere, from Persia to Mexico, from central Africa to Siberia—they are the same, a race of outcasts, despised by the people among whom they dwell, yet keeping their own ideal unchanged, true to their barbaric law. Jealous of strangers, clever enough to make a living from the weaknesses and foolishnesses of the people who despise them. Climate seems to make no difference to them.

In all environments they remain unchanged, the same sharp faces, the same black, keen, inscrutable eyes; the same bronzed skin; change in food or conditions of living make no mark on them, and they only take on the customs or beliefs or costumes of other races in order the better to cheat and fleece them—a race without nationality, without laws, without a literature, without a religion, for it is said that in their tongue there is no word for God, none for the soul, none for immortality.

Where did they come from? From Bohemia, say the French, but they are not really Bohemians nor more numerous there than elsewhere; from Egypt, they sometimes say themselves, to get a better price for their soothsaying. But there is nothing genuinely Egyptian about them. In reality they came from India. Their strange language shows that. Jealously guarded from the knowledge of strangers, it has yet been learned little by little, and comparison shows it is full of Hindu words, words that you may hear even now all over India.

Surprising, perhaps, at first blush, that there should be millions of low caste or outcast Hindus scattered all over Europe and even wandering through the byways of America, but only strange because we do not think about it. In reality Europe is full of Asiatic peoples. For long centuries they came pouring in, especially through the gate between the Ural mountains and the Caspian sea. The bitter proverb, "Scratch the Russian and you find the Tartar," may remind us that the great Tartar invasion, under the grandsons of Ghengis Khan, conquered all eastern Europe and settled the Tartar tribesmen all down the vast Volga valley, across the steppes and along the shore of the Black sea. The Huns and the Turks are also Asiatics, as are older peoples, like the Finns. So all eastern Europe is soaked with Asiatic blood, and if so many peoples came from northern Asia why should it be incredible that one race should come from southern Asia?

It seems probable that the gypsies drifted into Europe in the wake of Bati Khan's invasion, when he came down on Russia with his vast locust swarms of Tartar horsemen, 500,000 in number. The gypsies came from central Asia, whither they had been driven from India by the implacable and destructive invasion of Mahmud of Ghazni, about 900 years ago. It was about 1255 that Bati Khan and his locust swarms began to devastate Europe. And a century later roving bands of gypsies were scattered through eastern Europe—Wallachia, Moldavia, Bulgaria. By 1417 a horde of gypsies made their appearance in northwestern Germany, claiming to be Christian pilgrims from "Little Egypt," but their Christianity was about as genuine as their Egyptian origin. Their thievish, vagabond character was already manifest then, and they were driven from northern Germany to begin their perpetual wanderings through every European country and in due time to cross over to America in the wake of the white races.

But the great bulk of them still remain in the Danube valley, where they first appeared some six centuries ago. In Roumania there are between a quarter and a half a million of them. In Transylvania there are a hundred thousand more, while Serbia and Bulgaria and Macedonia have from thirty to a hundred thousand each. The condition of the gypsies in the valley of the Danube is in some respects peculiar, with considerable differences in the different countries. In Serbia the leveling power of Turkish rule, exerted century after century, had the effect of bringing the gypsies closer to the condition of the mass of the peasantry. In Serbia, therefore, though they are still an inferior caste and are not allowed to exercise the rights and powers of citizenship, the gypsies are perhaps less widely separated from the peasantry than in any other country in Europe. In Roumania the gypsies were terribly oppressed. They were captured and held as slaves and were treated with savage brutality. They lived in utter squalor and wretchedness and misery, nakedness and filth, lower than many of the lowest savages. Happily, however, King Charles completely removed the last vestiges of this reproach from his country, and the Roumanian gypsies are now completely emancipated.—Harper's.

Seest thou a man who is hasty in his words? There is more hope of a fool than of him.—Proverbs.

LETTER FROM PROF. CLAPP.

The current College Rambler which will be distributed this morning contains an interesting communication from Prof. Edward B. Clapp who was a professor in Illinois college from 1882 to 1898 and is now in the University of California. The University of California he describes as one of the best state universities. The greatest danger threatening an institution of learning, he it state school or privately endowed, says Prof. Clapp is the "too-eager bid for more students." In speaking of his own work, Prof. Clapp says, "I thought eight years at Illinois college, then three years at Yale, and now eighteen years at the University of California. Perhaps it was owing to the buoyant enthusiasm of youth, but I have nowhere enjoyed my work than at Illinois college. And I rejoice, with all my heart, at the brighter prospects which seem to be opening for the oldest college in Illinois."

Other features of this number of the Rambler are some extracts from the addresses of former presidents of Bradley on the subject of work and a new version of the Queen Elizabeth Sir Walter Raleigh cloak incident contained in a story of Miss Genevieve Clark.

HUMOR OF A SCULPTOR.

Carpeaux In His Merry Moods With Napoleon III.

Although he was a man of great earnestness and seriousness of purpose, Carpeaux, one of the most famous French sculptors of the last century, had a droll tongue and a capricious humor that he vented on lackey and emperor alike. Lecture Pour Tous relates some amusing anecdotes of him.

At a reception at the Tuileries Napoleon III, engaged in a few minutes' private conversation with Carpeaux. At its conclusion the young sculptor was besieged by a crowd of courtiers and envious rivals, who wanted to know what the emperor had talked about.

"Promise to tell no one!" whispered Carpeaux as he drew the eager listeners to one side of the ballroom. "Well, then, the emperor was trying to borrow 5 francs from me."

Some years later, when Carpeaux had received the commission to do the decorations for the Pavillon de Flore of the Tuileries, Napoleon often came to watch him at work on the scaffold that had been built against the face of the building. Occasionally the emperor mounted aloft to this improvised studio, hung between earth and sky.

One day Carpeaux, in a particularly merry mood, told him that when he wished to rest from his labors he would make tiny pellets of clay and drop them on the heads of passersby. "It's very amusing," he explained. "People stop and look about them. They can't imagine where the missiles come from."

"Here," he continued, holding out some of the little clay bullets; "try it yourself."

"I wouldn't dare," laughingly said Napoleon, amused at the idea of the emperor of the French, mounted on a scaffold, throwing pellets of clay at his subjects.

"Bab!" muttered Carpeaux. "What's the use of being an emperor?"

Napoleon did not forget this remark. A few months later, when the sculptor sought a title, the emperor, unable or unwilling to grant the request, exclaimed:

"Bab! What's the use of being Carpeaux? Isn't that better than baron?"

MENACE OF THE CURTAIN.

Window Draperies and the Campaign Against the White Plague.

If the worldwide campaign against tuberculosis is going to be a success it cannot be too strongly impressed that, like charity, preventive measures must begin at home. Fresh air must be obtained by each occupant of every room in the house. This can never be accomplished until housewives realize that the body is of more value than raiment and an abundant supply of pure air of more importance to life than the maintenance of the traditional snow whiteness of a pair of window curtains.

The fear of soiling white curtains and also of admitting dust and dirt into the rooms where it can settle on furniture and ornaments is quite as much responsible for the closed window habit as is the dislike of drafts. It is hard to overcome prejudice and harder still to root out an old established custom, but nevertheless these elementary facts of hygiene should be taught plainly and simply to elder girls in school so that wiser habits of house management may be inculcated.

To abolish curtains altogether from the windows of private dwellings would be, perhaps, too much to expect of the present generation, but if this ideal cannot yet be attained they might be made of some less expensive or more readily renewable material. For the sake of appearances human lives must not be allowed to suffer.—London Medical Press and Circular.

Feeling Heat and Cold.

The principal reasons that we feel objects that are cold when brought in contact with the skin quicker than those that are warm is that the skin, being a very poor conductor of heat, absorbs heat slowly from an object of a higher temperature than itself, while other objects which are cooler and which in nearly every instance are better conductors of heat than the skin absorb heat readily from the skin, and hence a sensation of cold is felt at once.

Sizing Up the Situation.

The young girl had been engaged as an amanuensis by a society woman. She discovered that nearly every day the husband and wife had a quarrel, so she gave notice that she was going to leave.

"Why?" inquired the lady, in surprise.

"Oh, you don't need an amanuensis, madam," replied the girl. "What you want is a war correspondent!"—Yonkers Statesman.

No Cause For Worry.

"What do you suppose your father will say when I ask permission to marry you?"

"I don't know. But I wouldn't worry. He didn't refuse any of the men who asked for my four older sisters."—Detroit Free Press.

Identified.

"Is that your prodigal son?" inquired the visitor to Uncle Zeke's farm, pointing to the youth who spent most of his time swinging in a hammock. "No," laughed Uncle Zeke pleasantly. "He's my fatted calf."—Harper's Weekly.

Much Worse.

MONTENEGRINS OVERJOYED AT CAPITULATION OF SCUTARI

People Assemble at Palace of King Nicholas Cheering and King Addresses His Countrymen.

London, April 23.—The news of the fall of Scutari to the Montenegrin arms has been received with extraordinary demonstrations of joy in all the allied capitals, notably Belgrade, and the Bulgarian premier has sent effusive congratulations to the Montenegrins' premier.

The first effect of the fall of the fortress has been the extension of the international naval blockade to Durazzo, but what will be the next step of the powers in facing the new situation it is difficult to foretell. According to the view prevailing at St. Petersburg, the coercion of Montenegro would not be an easy matter.

Austria-Hungary has already made definite proposals to the powers with a view to compelling Montenegro to evacuate Scutari but it is not certain that such proposals will be welcomed.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph asserts that the Austrian government has repeatedly but vainly tried to induce the powers to consent to the landing of forces from the international fleet to put pressure upon King Nicholas. He adds that Austrian patience is not exhausted and that Austria insists either that the powers compel Montenegro to evacuate Albanian territory, including Scutari, or that Austria be given a mandate to do so.

Austria believes that an expeditionary force of 40,000 can achieve this task without bloodshed, and unless the powers speedily come to a decision she will act alone.

The press of the whole of Europe recognizes that the situation is extremely serious.

The British prime minister, Mr. Asquith, addressing the representatives of the foreign newspapers at a dinner last night, made a hopeful speech which may be regarded as reflecting the view of the ambassadorial conference which he attended earlier in the day.

Cettinje, April 23.—The first tidings of the fall of Scutari were received at 2 o'clock in the morning in a telegram from the crown prince to the king. The populace was immediately apprised of the glad news by the firing of salvos of artillery and the ringing of church bells. Tumbling out of bed the people assembled at the palace cheering enthusiastically. From the balcony King Nicholas addressed his people and in full view of the crowds embraced the representatives of the allies who called to congratulate him. The Turks before capitulating had nearly exhausted their ammunition. Under the terms of the surrender they marched out of town.

Caused Great Anxiety.
St. Petersburg, April 23.—The capture of Scutari has caused great anxiety and activity in diplomatic circles here. The Russian foreign minister, Sergius Sazonoff was busy all day conferring with ambassadors and exchanging telegrams with the European chancelleries.

It is understood that Russian diplomacy prefers to leave the initiative to France and Great Britain and it is believed that neither will countenance any form of coercion with respect to Montenegro. Russia herself cannot do so without straining to the breaking point the patience of her Slavophile ruling classes.

Under the circumstances according to the opinion in well informed quarters the only possible course is for the ambassadorial conference at London to reconsider its decision regarding Scutari.

Great Enthusiasm.
Belgrade, April 23.—Not even the Serbian victories during the war caused anything like the scenes of enthusiasm which were witnessed here today over the taking of Scutari by Montenegrins.

The city is brilliantly illuminated tonight. King Peter addressed a vast crowd from the balcony of the palace and declared that the Serbian nation's joy was unbounded.

Demonstrative scenes also occurred in the Skupstina.

Has Submitted Proposals.
Vienna, April 23.—The semi-official Fremden Blatt asserts that the Austro-Hungarian government has submitted concrete proposals to the powers for the application of drastic measures to compel the Montenegrins to evacuate Scutari without delay.

Hope It Will End War.
Rome, April 23.—When the pope learned this afternoon through Cardinal Merry del Val of the fall of Scutari he said:

"I hope this will mark the end of the war, thus insuring that the remainder of the jubilee of Constantine which Catholics are celebrating will pass without further bloodshed."

The Montenegrin minister, M. Popovitch, declared today that King Nicholas would not renounce Scutari at any cost, its acquisition having been one of the strongest of Montenegro's aspirations for six centuries.

Armistice Extended.
Constantinople, April 23.—The armistice between the Turks and the Bulgarians which expired this evening has been extended until noon May 5th.

Situation Reported Grave.

Rome, April 23.—The Tribune, which is considered the mouthpiece of the foreign office, says that the international situation brought about by the capture of Scutari by the Montenegrins is grave and exceptionally difficult. It adds that a collision between the conflicting interests can only be avoided by the maintenance of the unity of Europe which must find remedy for immediate peace.

Any hesitation might compromise Europe peace.

Heavy Bombardment.
Paris, April 24.—In an interview published in the Matin, Premier Lazar Mijuskovitch, who has just arrived from before Scutari, says

A Marvel for Sore Feet. Acts Right Off.

Send at Once for Free Trial Package.

Sore Feet? Never After Using TIZ.

Good-bye sore feet, aching feet, swollen feet, sweaty feet, smelly feet, tired feet.

Good-bye corns, calluses and bunions and raw spots.

You've never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

It acts at once and makes the feet feel remarkably fresh and sore-proof.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores and draw out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet.

It is the only remedy that does. Mrs. F. J. Androcks, Jamaica, Long Island, found this out. She says: "I tried so many different remedies but none seem to draw out the inflammation and poisons like TIZ has done for me. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet."

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and calluses. You'll feel like a new person.

Remember thousands of other people have experimented with substitutes for TIZ without getting relief until they used the genuine. So when anyone asks you to experiment tell him you won't be the goat—you want the genuine TIZ.

TIZ is for sale at all drug stores, department and general stores at 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct. Money back if TIZ doesn't do all we say. For a free trial package write today to Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

No more significant testimony of the fact that civil war veterans are rapidly and surely joining the majority than is furnished by the new congressional directory. It shows the names of but two old soldiers, one in the senate and one in the house.

Aledo is a city of about 2000 but the people there have taken up with the idea of vocational training in the schools. The board intends to equip shops in one of the buildings by fall and with the aid of two new instructors added to the teaching force be ready to give the pupils much valuable instruction. A committee of the school board has been instructed to make visits to other places to learn what is necessary in the way of equipment.

Governor Dunne's proposal to consolidate the fish and game departments of the state if carried into effect will provide a goodly list of desirable jobs for the faithful. The list includes an executive officer at a salary of $5,000; two associates at $2,500; six wardens at $1,500; sixty deputies at $1,200, and possibly sixty deputies at monthly salary of $100, and never fear the "sixty others" would get on the regular pay roll all right. The salaries proposed figure up to the nice little total of $153,000 per annum. Surely this is an economy measure.

In seeking for the Sunday closing of all barber shops in Jacksonville the boss barbers of Jacksonville are in line with action being taken in Joliet and a number of other cities. The barbers argue the matter not from a religious point of view but from an economic. They believe that with one day's rest in seven that conditions are better among their employees than is the case when there is seven days work without intermission. Up in Joliet the movement met some opposition and now retail merchants have joined with the barbers in the effort to secure what they want. Every worker is better off physically, mentally and morally for one day's rest in seven.

The plan advocated by the directors of the Y. M. C. A. to utilize extra space in the building as a dormitory seems to merit approval. The plan is a step toward securing fixed revenues for the support of the worthy institution other than from dues and gifts. The fact is that no Y. M. C. A. is self supporting, that is the funds simply from dues are not enough to pay the costs of operation. The difference must be met from endowment funds, from rentals or other earnings or from gifts. It is often hard to make the general public understand this fact but it is true nevertheless that the efficiency of the average association would be greatly lessened were the membership fees made large enough to cover the expenses. The local Y. M. C. A. building is favorably located for dormitory purposes and there is a lot of space in the building now useless, which will be made an asset in keeping up expenses.

Morgan county farmers will be interested in the bill which will be presented before the Illinois legislature and pushed by the Sangamon County Alfalfa association. If this measure becomes a law Illinois lands growing alfalfa will be free from state taxation for a period of four years. The purpose of the bill of course is to interest farmers in raising alfalfa on the theory that not only they but the whole state will be enriched on account of the soil fertility resulting. There is no question about the adaptability of the soil of Illinois for general alfalfa raising and the strange thing is that so many farmers are unwilling to give the crop a trial. The real reasons however aside from natural conservatism are no doubt because to start an alfalfa crop means hard and painstaking labor, considerable expense for seed and unless a favorable season comes there is apt to be a loss of both seed and labor.

Because a parolee boy from the St. Charles home is guilty of the atrocious crime of killing a woman and her two children, that institution is now being subjected to a good deal of criticism and the parole system is being attacked. The truth is that the boy is of a sub-normal or degenerate type and while his crime is almost too terrible to think about it nevertheless should not be charged up against the home or the parole system. Col. S. B. Adams, superintendent of the home says that what is needed is more parole officers to make frequent visits to lads who are at work away from the home and who are thus able to keep in touch with them at what is a critical time in their lives. In a recent speech before the national council of women in Washington Senator L. Y. Sherman in talking about the St. Charles home said:

"Illinois has one institution caring for 500 boys. It is a home. They are trained, educated, taught to work, redeemed, given their chance to live and use rightly the one life given each of them. This is their right. It is society's duty to give them that chance. Society protects itself in doing so. It is better to save the child than imprison the criminal. The observation of child life is both humane and defensive."

LEWIS SEES TROUBLE AHEAD FOR NATION

SPEAKS AT DOUGLAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION IN SPRINGFIELD.

Says "Little Giant" Had as His Political Life Theme the Establishment of Home Rule, or Self Government in Each State.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—The United States is in "prospect of war with Japan," it has a "disturbance" with England over the Panama canal treaty, and Mexico and Central America are enemies of this country, according to the views of United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis as expressed by him tonight in an address before a joint session of the Illinois legislature.

Senator Lewis declared that Mexico, Central and South America were making "combinations and alliances against the United States as revenge" and he added: "All of these are biding their time to aid Japan or any oriental or European enemy in an assault upon us and in the destruction of the Panama canal."

He said it was the result of "our late course of unnecessarily meddling at the direction of stock speculators into the private and financial affairs of foreign lands."

Senator Lewis' address was delivered before the legislature on the occasion of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Stephen A. Douglas.

Referring to the United States senate in the days of Douglas, Trumbull, Webster and Clay, compared with the present day estimate, Senator Lewis said:

"In those days the United States senate in the influencing opinion of the American citizen, was the most powerful legislative body in the world, but in affecting the market rates of speculation it was of little consideration, as it should have been. The reverse is seen in the present day. In matters of finance and stock market gambling, the United States senate is the most potent in its least expression of legislation, of all tribunals. But such has been its course in later days that in the influencing of the political opinions of citizens, the United States senate today is the least potent of any legislative body in the world."

"This condition will now be changed, and under President Wilson, with his ideals of Americanism having the service of mankind as its first object, and money of many as its incidental—the old order will be restored, and by the direction of the new leaders of all parties in the senate resuscitated to its ancient estimate and high standard, as was its conception by the fathers who created it."

Douglas Believed in Home Rule.

"Senator Douglas had as his political life theme the establishment of home rule, or self government in each state of political division; and this to be a sovereign in all matters of purely local concern—when not conflicting with the constitution of the United States. If this creed had been adhered to through this land, no such discredit would today have been beclouding the United States courts as now exists. This dark reflection upon these heretofore eminent tribunals has been caused by the assumption on the part of these federal agencies to intrude upon all state government and to the end that they might accommodate financial contentions they inconsiderately with every opportunity afforded, declare state legislation and municipal regulation invalid whenever the same assumed to control the rates of public service corporations.

"Then, in the stead of these local regulations prescribed by the people for their own protection and the just government of these public franchise-enjoying institutions; the federal courts would substitute the discretionary rates of the bond holders and watered stock dividend gatherers. It was such instances, multiplied throughout the different states of the union, which caused the citizens to regard the federal courts the enemy of the people and the proper guardian of the privileges of those who oppressed citizenship. While these instances to which I allude were the prominent instances which attracted the resentment of the people, and therefore the exception, yet it was such that prevented the due credit being given to the conduct of law abiding and constitutional federal courts in this country."

Bringing Democracy Back.

"We need more of home rule—state regulation of state institutions—and business organizations conducted within the state which profit from the citizens—and less government at a distance and by presidential discretion, congressional intrusion and federal court invasion. This will do much to bring democracy back to republican government and re-establish the federal courts in the confidence of the citizen and the respect of the nation."

"Senator Douglas saw the future as it is now pictured in the present, in his demand for an American foreign policy." One that kept America's hands off of foreign countries, and kept the hands of foreign countries off of America.

"See the prospect of war with Japan. Note the disturbance with England over the Panama canal treaty. Mark the enmity with Russia and with France from time to time arising and finding expression on the objection to the construction of the Panama canal. Behold the hatred of us as expressed by all Central and South America—all of these caused by our late course of unnecessarily meddling at the direction of stock speculators into the private and financial affairs of foreign lands."

"U. S. Has Been Dabbler."

"We went into Asia and England in the seizure of railroad territory in Manchuria. We had no object than the aiding of financial jobbers in Asia who claimed to be American but were English and European in interest. We entered at England's invitation to meddle in the matter of China and her obtaining money from the world to start her new republic. We went into Japan with our stock manipulators, then we put behind them the federal government, and this gave Japan the right to demand reciprocity—that the federal government stand behind the Japanese in America, as against any state regulation protesting that state from the effect of foreign influence in domestic matters. Now we are threatened with reprisals that can at any time mean the seizure of the Philippines and Hawaii, precipitating war of worlds on America. For private objects and to serve certain well known syndicate interests, we 'dabbled' unnecessarily into South America without form of constitutional ceremony and now find Mexico, Central and South America our enemies and making combinations and alliances against the United States as a revenge. All of these are biding their time to aid Japan or any other oriental or European enemy in an assault upon us and in the destruction of the Panama canal."

"If America is to be preserved to our children as the inheritance of freedom and justice as transmitted from the fathers who founded the republic of Washington, Jefferson and Hamilton, we need to be restored to the doctrines of Lincoln and Douglas which followed the advice of Washington: 'Peace with all nations, entangling alliances with none.'"

TRESPASSERS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

Periodicals Clipped and Mutilated—Further Violators of Law to be Prosecuted.

Warning is given the vandals who have been at work in the public library that further outrages will be prosecuted to the extent of the law. Articles have been torn from magazines and clippings have been made from books. Damage has been committed as far back as last summer when several art magazines were ruined by the tearing out of pictures. The name "White" was found clipped from the last issue of "Who's Who in America." A recent number of the World's Work was badly mutilated. Service to the library can be rendered by everyone who will keep his eyes open and report the clipping or damaging of library property in any way. As a public institution the library deserves the support of everyone, especially when it comes to preventing injuries that interfere with the efficiency of its work.

ENCOURAGE TITHING

AT CENTENARY. A sermon will be preached Sunday by the Rev. G. W. Flagg, discussing the practice of giving by tenths and urging the adoption of a system of voluntary tithing. A recent meeting of the official board discussed the system and urged the widespread adoption of this plan. It is hoped that church members from all over the city interested in tithing will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this important subject discussed next Sunday morning.

Get State Flour Contract—Munday & Co., millers of Litchfield, have been awarded the flour contract for furnishing flour to state institutions. This contract will require more than 50 car loads of wheat. Fifty car loads of wheat will make about 50 car loads of flour and over ten car loads of feed. The total value will be in the neighborhood of $80,000.

Coroners Ask New Laws—Illinois coroners are about to ask for several new laws. One is that all unidentified bodies be photographed and the picture kept and filed with the evidence of the inquest for future reference. Another is, each physician be compelled to report deaths where he has not had charge of the patient twenty-four hours prior to death.

Catholics Will Attend State Meet—Arrangements have been made by the German Catholics of Quincy to run a special train to Decatur to attend the three-day annual meeting of the Federated German Catholic societies of the state on Sunday, May 4. The contract for the train has been signed with the Wabash and Quincy hopes to send a delegation of at least 500.

Northcott to Make Address—Hon. William A. Northcott, United States district attorney and former lieutenant governor of Illinois, has accepted an invitation from the committee of Lincoln Camp, Sons of Veterans, to deliver the annual Decoration Day address in Lincoln on May 30th.

There is no case on record of a cough, cold or lagrippe developing into bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been taken. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

SEVENTY PER CENT OF STATE NOW DRY.

Anti-Saloon Forces Make Steady Gains.

Thirty-four per cent of the population of Illinois lives in "dry" territory, according to figures compiled by E. R. Davis, Chicago superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois. These late additions make the area under no license more than 70 per cent of the total area of the state.

"Great gains were made last year in the number of anti-saloon members of the legislature," said Mr. Davis, "and the statutes now contain some prohibitions which curtail very largely the sale of liquor. The indications from various sections of the country warrant the prediction that within the next few years the nation will outlaw the saloon."

"The 'dry' territory of the country is already vastly larger than the 'wet' territory." The twentieth annual jubilee convention of the anti-saloon forces will be held in Columbus, Ohio, in November. Mr. Davis pointed out that recent revelations by white slave investigators have directed attention to the influence of saloons, and he urged their abolition as the one method of cutting down the white slave traffic.

MAGNATES HOPEFUL

Terre Haute, Ind., April 23.—Under conditions that appear to be anything but encouraging, the Central league of baseball clubs bravely lined up today for the start of the championship season. Weather conditions seriously handicapped every club of the league in the spring practice work, while one or two of the plants were all but destroyed in recent floods. Notwithstanding these drawbacks President Heller and the club owners take an optimistic view and predict that the league will pull through the season successfully.

Since the close of last season the league has been completely reorganized. Seven of the twelve clubs of last year have been dropped. Those remaining are Ft. Wayne, Dayton, Springfield, Terre Haute and Grand Rapids. Evansville has been added to these five to make a six club circuit. The schedule calls for a season of 140 games, with September 7 as the closing date.

Barker was signed by the locals at Los Angeles during the training trip of the White Sox. Barker is a ball player who professes that he has never witnessed a snow fall.

ON THE SIDE LINES.

Looks like Christy Mathewson was in for a great year. If that's the case the Giants will have that much easier a task winning the flag. He was in impressive style against Doolin's band. The return of Capt. Doyle to the line up is a good thing for the McGrawites.

The Cubs came near making a clean sweep of the initial series with the Reds. Only a necessity of catching a train for Pittsburgh kept them out of a final victory. That will be a great contest, with the Pirates today and will in a degree determine the standing of the team for the month of April. If the Cubs can split even it will mean their going some with a respectable percentage.

The Cards are going pretty well. To play Pittsburgh to a standstill is some work. The Pirates have been picked as a possible, if not probable pennant winner by many of the scribes.

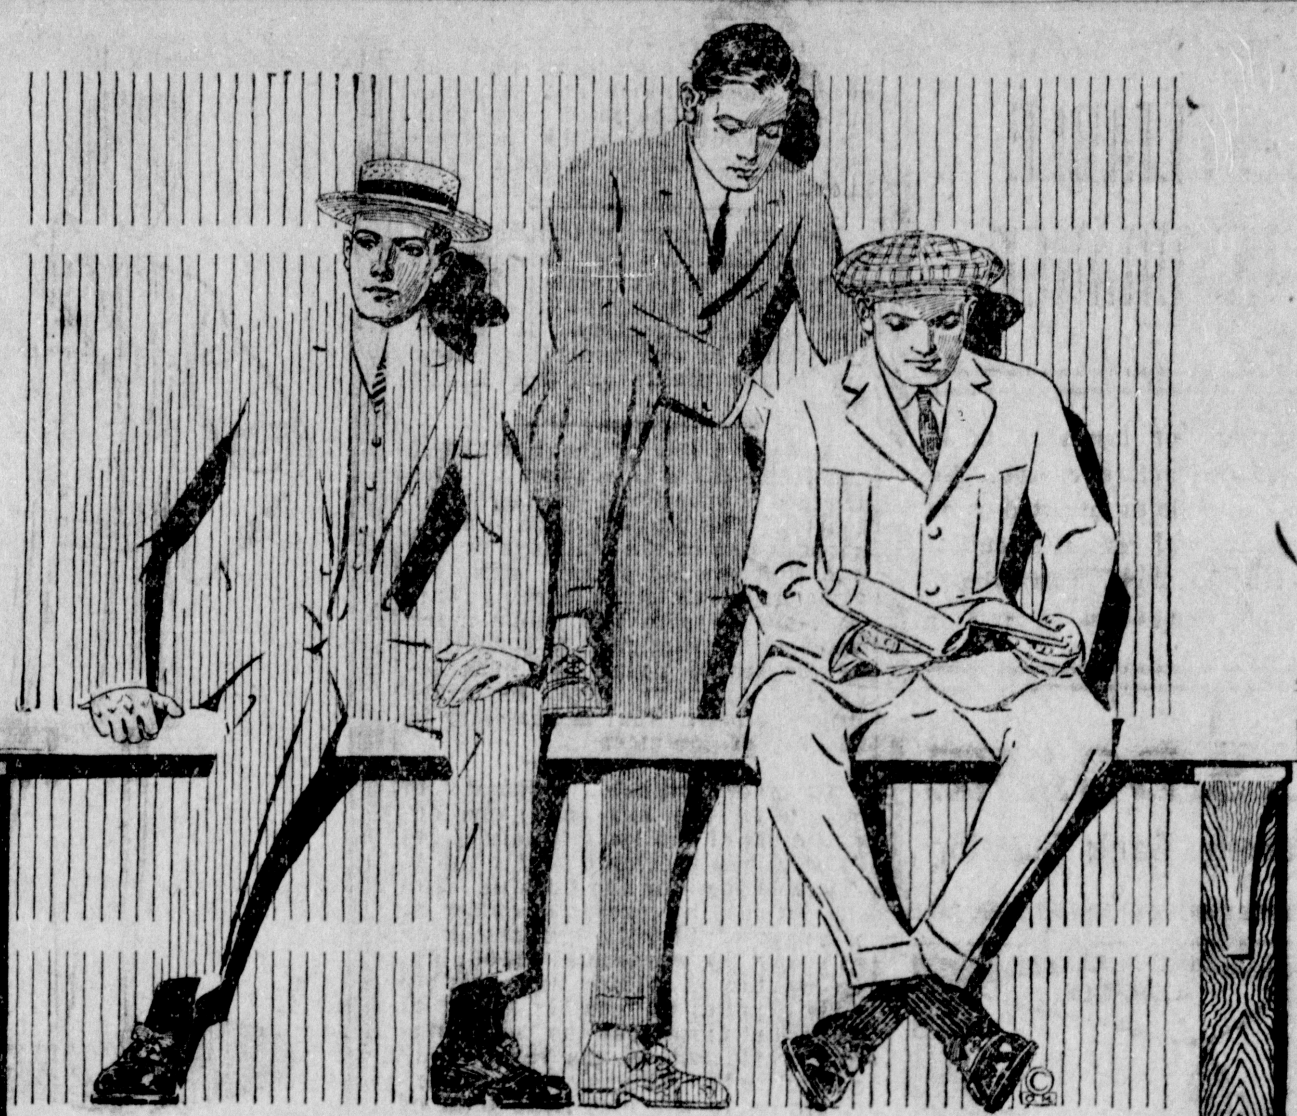

Brooklyn continues the slaughter of the Braves. If this streak keeps up Ebbetts may feel so good that he will loosen up a bit and enable Dahlen to buy some more talent. If they could pick up one more strong pitcher to second the efforts of Ragan and Rucker the Dodgers would be a first division team. But most any old team would be so in that case.

Chance's getting into the games is what is making the improvement in the Highlanders' work. He is an inspiring leader and is always up on his toes looking for an opening. He seems to have a star in Keating. Holding the Athletics to three hits is a feat that but few seasoned pitchers can boast of, let alone a youngster.

Too bad Washington couldn't have won when the president was out to see them perform Monday. But they got ample revenge in the game and it looks as if Johnson was going to be simply invincible this year. Two hits was all the world champs could get off him. The way Washington hit the Boston pitchers must have made Jake Stahl wonder what's the matter. There's got to be an immediate brace up in that same staff before very long or there will be so much ground lost that it will be an impossibility to repeat this year. Begins to look as if the fight was to be between the Senators and the Athletics.

The Callahans seem to have struck a winning combination and will not be in any too big a hurry to change it. As lined up in yesterday's game the team looks more evenly balanced than at any time this season. Now if Walsh and Benz will give their share the Sox should do their friends a run for their money. The Sox rooters are the most loyal bunch in the game and deserve the best to be had.

The Three Eye season opens today with Dubuque playing at Peoria, Davenport at Quincy, Danville at Springfield and Decatur at Bloomington will furnish the other openings. The teams are all reported in good shape. It is too early to size up the probable pennant contenders. Donnelly of Springfield seems confident that his boys are to be the real pace makers and final champions. President Meldroth of Peoria, made an effort to have the opening game at Peoria transferred owing to the fact that Lake View park is partially under water but was sat down upon at a special meeting at Bloomington and announces that he will do the best he can. Rowland as usual has signed a small army but its a safe bet that the Dubs will be down around the second division somewhere. Hy Jasper has signed to pitch for Rowland. Decatur is problematical. Harry Syfert has a good bunch at Bloomington. Danville is about the same as last year which was nothing extra. At Quincy our own Tommy Hackett is in charge with a cargo of youngsters from California. It remains to be seen whether he has underestimated the strength of this league or not. It promises to be a fine season for Jerney's organization.

STILL TAKING OUT OIL.

Although little is said these days about oil in Morgan county, it is nevertheless a fact that a few barrels are flowing each day from the wells east of Jacksonville. It is an interesting fact too that O. N. Barr has just completed arrangements to use oil as fuel instead of coal and has purchased a supply sufficient for present needs from Frank Byrns and associates who are getting oil from the Davies well. Mr. Byrns, who has kept at the oil game in the county more consistently than anyone else, has not yet lost interest. The fact is that the price of oil by the barrel is now $1.30 while at the time of the special developments here the price was 80 cents. Had the price at that time been up to the present figure it is likely that the field would have been given a stronger try out and that more wells would have been sunk. As a result of the increased prices old and abandoned wells in various Illinois fields are being cleaned and scraped out and utilized to the best advantage possible.

3. By swallowing infected food, by putting fingers, money, pencils or other objects into the mouth.

The little germ belongs to plant life and it is not an animal or insect as some suppose. They multiply by division i. e. Each one divides into 2 and they in turn do likewise in a short time there are millions, and the body has a great army to fight.

In order to resist consumption we must have a strong healthy body. Plenty of fresh air, sunshine, and good wholesome food, plenty of rest exercise, cleanliness and cheerfulness.

From what we have learned about tuberculosis there is something that we can all do and it is our bounden duty to do it, in stamping out the plague.

TELLS ABOUT LIFE IN THE LAND OF JAPAN

National Capital and Temple of Shiba Are Described—Make Special Study of Life Among the Common People—Tell of Fencing Bout.

(By S. W. Nichols)

One morning we visited the capitol building and were shown over it. It is a fairly well built structure, with the usual number of committee rooms and conveniences and reminded me of the great edifice of our own Washington, only it was on a smaller scale. In the house of senators and also of representatives the members are arranged in rising tiers and do not have the convenient desks which are supplied our lawmakers. They have comfortable benches with cushions and each member has his place and it is indicated by a block about eight or ten inches long and two and a half square on the end and his name is on it in large letters. The speaker has a good desk and there are facilities for secretaries, reporters and the like and galleries for spectators, embassies and one especially finely arranged and furnished for the royal household.

Unfortunately congress has not yet been in session so we could visit it, but we would be unable to understand much of what was said if we were on hand during the debates, which I am informed are at times rather lively. The royal party is jealous of anything that smacks of a republic and some men have been severely punished for suggesting the bare possibility of such a thing in Japan.

The Shiba Temple.

The great Shiba temple is another of the sights which we took in and as usual saw a blaze of glory, art and wonder. It would take columns to describe it and I shall not make the attempt, only referring to some of the more prominent features. On the porch are two enormous carved dragons, one called the ascending and one the descending. Each of these temples consists of three parts, the oratory, a connecting gallery and the inner shrine or sanctuary.

Each of these is a blaze of gold, colors, elaborate arabesques, which actually dazzle by their brilliancy. The structures are mortuary and are especially for worshipping the spirits of the dead. The day we were there we were told that a relative of Admiral Togo, and now a student in London, and home on vacation, would worship there that afternoon, as does his illustrious relative at times.

The temple is not a single building, but is a mass of various structures in connection with the main one. There are several about the ground and it is claimed that this one outshines anything in the country.

One of the temples was burned a while back and an ingenious way had been adopted to raise the money for a new one. Several hundred square yards of space has been provided on structures similar to bill boards, only larger, and on these, on boards two inches wide, twenty long and half an inch thick, are painted the names of subscribers and the amounts subscribed, and they are nailed to the board frames, and as I said, cover several hundred square yards of space. It can hardly be said that the left hand doesn't know what the right is doing in this case. Our guide said the sums subscribed varied from a few cents to a hundred dollars or more.

Back of the temple is a play ground and though rather crude is better than nothing. It consists of a space perhaps two hundred by three hundred feet and supplied with a few swings. Several boys were making good use of the swings and seemed to think it great fun.

Back of the temple is a hill with some trees on it and from which a fine view of the bay is obtained. It is a beautiful expanse of water, but so shallow that only small craft can get at all near the city, and Yokohama is the sea port for the capital of the country. On the side of this hill is the largest park in Japan. I suppose the readers of the Journal know what sort of a structure this is. It is five stories high and about thirty feet square at the base. Each story is ornamented with eaves like a great roof, only they are in all sorts of fantastic shapes. They are generally painted red in the main, with ornamental designs and are wholly barbaric, but a sort of the temple plant. They are always closed and of no earthly use, but are always to be found in connection with a temple.

In a Street Car.

I had one experience which made me feel anything but pleasant. One morning we boarded a crowded street car and a handsome young woman rose and offered me her seat. I tried by all sorts of pantofoles to tell her I didn't like to take a lady's seat, but it was of no use; she actually took hold of my coat and gently pushed me to the place. I thought that was a kind of woman's rights I didn't like.

Much Gravel.

The streams in this country supply a great deal of gravel and it is used all over the city and many lawns, parks, areas and yards are covered with it. It is generally washed clean and isn't pleasant to walk on, but the wooden shoes of the natives make it all right.

The Common People.

Ever since arriving in this wonderful city we have sought to find primitive Japanese life and must have succeeded, for whenever we stop to hark for anything we at once attract a yapping crowd of people old and young, and we have seen so much of the inner life of the people that I feel like writing enough for several pages of the Journal regarding ing it, but it might not be as pleasing to them as to me here on the ground.

Ancient Fencing.

One evening we had a rare treat in the privilege which our native landlord secured for us in getting us admitted to a boxing school carried on by Prof. Takamo, a stalwart native gentleman of noble pedigree. In olden times the warriors carried two handed swords, weapons so large that it took both hands to manage them when in combat, and the hands were well leaded too. In those times the swordsmen or fencing master was a very important individual and our host is a direct descendant of the family and carried a school which is a link between the old and new one, too, for the nation is very progressive, yet there are a few who cling to the old. Prof. Takamo is a stalwart man whom it would be very unpleasant to meet in any kind of a combat. His pupils use sticks about five feet long or a little less, wear breast plates of heavy leather and metal defences for the face. They went through the drill on a floor as smooth as glass and were barefooted, though the evening was cold. Such work I never saw in all my life. You would suppose they would kill each other, they were so vigorous and fierce. Sometimes they fought in pairs ranged along the room and sometimes a pair would have the whole room to themselves. They yelled at the top of their voices as they fought and the scene was fearful and intensely interesting. The pupils wore tunics which reached to their ankles like skirts and all were prime athletes. Once some little fellows not more than 12 or 13 fought and the game was to hit the opponent on the head, the breast or the hand.

Then two young men would take the sticks and give pantomime exhibitions of the manner in which fencing was done, doing their work in slow movements, and once two hand-some young ladies appeared on the floor. The professor had a drill master who had special charge, while the head of the school sat cross legged and solemn looking on. The young ladies bowed very low twice or three times to the old man and then went at each other. They had no masks and were not as fierce as the boys.

Once two young men took real swords and wore no masks. They fought till the fire flew from their swords, but neither was hurt. After the exercises were over the professor solemnly produced some of his choicest treasures, among them a helmet worn by a hero, General Sanada, 500 years old; a rare two handed sword 300 years old and made by Koisu, the king of sword makers of his time; several other swords, a bundle of arrows, a very old Japanese straight sword, heavy and fine, and all he showed had edges as keen as a razor.

Then to show the superiority of his country he produced a Chinese sword, a clumsy affair, straight and rusty, as he hardly seemed to think it worth keeping in good order. He also showed with pardonable pride pictures of himself and gave Mrs. Evert one of himself. We left with many expressions of gratitude for the rare and wonderful exhibition we had seen.

The University.

We paid a visit to the national university and were much impressed with the work done there and the versatile genius of the nation. Departments of mining, civil engineering, electricity, architecture, machinery, steam engines, law, medicine, literature and others are there. The literature is immense, has large buildings and a hospital in connection. We were shown about with great courtesy and enjoyed the call a great deal.

General Nogi's Suicide.

Nearly all will remember the suicide of brave old General Nogi. It has been popularly supposed that it was old time loyalty to his emperor who died, but a gentleman in a position to know told me that it was because the army was giving up its stern discipline and becoming more and more luxurious and less rugged and military in spirit and fond of ease and good times and he wanted to shock them by his example, as he had been unable to stem the tide, which he deplored.

Women Pile Drivers.

We have several times seen public works in progress where small piles were being driven into the earth and in all cases the machinery was primitive. It consisted of a number of poles united toward the top, constituting a kind of frame work, on watch was a wheel, over which rope passed and one end was fastened to the pile driver below and to the other end were tied a host of ropes, to each of which an Amazon sort of woman held and at a given signal all pulled with appropriate groans and ejaculations and when high enough the driver was liberated and fell with a thud on the pile below, and the work was continued until the pile was deep enough in the ground. The women all had big cloths like handkerchiefs about their heads and seemed stalwart and not worn hard by their efforts.

A Native Ambulance.

One day we passed a body of men who had in charge a sick man on his way to a hospital. The man was laid on an ornamental stretcher with a canopy over him and well covered and the whole thing was borne by two men with some following behind. This is not as speedy as a horse ambulance, but in this land of cheap labor it answers.

A Funeral.

One day we passed a funeral procession and it was indeed impressive. All was on foot and the bearers of the body were dressed in white. The mourners followed and after them came a procession of men bearing aloft poles on which were bright brass plates and two had what looked like the Hawaiian island kahili, a pole with a cylindrical bunch of feathers on top about the size and shape of a nail keg.

When a person dies in this country the relatives and intimate friends are notified by postal cards or some sort of message and many hasten to offer condolence by card or otherwise and some leave a small gift of money to aid in the funeral expenses. Sometimes in the procession birds in cages are borne, to be liberated on the way in token of the freedom of the spirit of the departed. Arriving at the temple the rites are conducted by the priests, but in a language not understood by the people, but the fiery used and the spectacular display made leave a deep impression on the minds of the mourners. Cremation follows and the ashes are deposited in a cemetery, which is a sanitary manner of disposing of the dead bodies.

Until recently the names of the departed were not inscribed on their tombs, but a new name is given the deceased by the priests, though that custom, like many others, is passing away.

A prominent writer on this country says:

"Frankly pagan though the Japanese may be, he is not without his religious instincts; nay truly, he is a man of deep religious sentiment. In course of time he will surely be won for Christ, for he sees, and will see more clearly, that a genuine Christianity will ever give him permanent rest and satisfaction that does not recognize to the fullest extent the realities of the unseen world and the blessed communion of all saints, living and departed in Christ."

Government Printing Establishment. We made a pleasant and profitable visit to the government printing and engraving building and were much impressed with what we saw. Some of the buildings were substantial and in good repair and some were all of wood, but the work done in them was like everything Japanese, thorough and substantial.

WOMAN'S ILLS DISAPPEARED

Like Magic after taking Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Bangor, N. Y. — "As I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with great benefit I feel it my duty to write and tell you about it. I was ailing from female weakness and had headache and backache nearly all the time. I was later every month than I should have been and so sick that I had to go to bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and these troubles have disappeared like magic. I have recommended the Compound to many women who have used it successfully."—Mrs. JAMES J. STACY, R.F.D. No. 3, North Bangor, N. Y.

Another Made Well.

Ann Arbor, Mich. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for me. For years I suffered terribly with hemorrhages and had pains so intense that sometimes I would faint away. I had female weakness so bad that I had to doctor all the time and never found relief until I took your remedies to please my husband. I recommend your wonderful medicine to all sufferers as I think it is a blessing for all women."—Mrs. L. E. WYCKOFF, 112 S. Ashley St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

There need be no doubt about the ability of this grand old remedy, made from the roots and herbs of our fields, to remedy woman's diseases. We possess volumes of proof of this fact, enough to convince the most skeptical. Why don't you try it?

A FACT PROVEN.

Should Convince Even the Most Skeptical of Its Truth.

If there is the slightest doubt in the minds of any that Dandruff germs do not exist, their belief is compelled by the fact that a rabbit inoculated with the germs became bald in six weeks' time.

It must be apparent to any person therefore that the only prevention of baldness is the destruction of the germ which act is successfully accomplished in one hundred per cent. of cases by the application of Newbro's Herpicide.

Dandruff is caused by the same germ which causes baldness and can be prevented with the same remedy—Newbro's Herpicide.

VOLUME OF BUSINESS SMALL; PRICES NARROW

FEW STOCKS MOVED AS MUCH AS POINT EITHER WAY IN DAY'S TRADING.
Effect Upon Business Conditions of New Tariff Bill Remains to be Determined and Operators Are Also Watching Closely California-Japanese Problem.

(By Associated Press)
New York, April 23.—Hesitation on the part of stock market operators to attempt an interpretation of the present situation was indicated today in the narrow range of prices and small volume of business. Few stocks moved as much as a point above or below yesterday's close. Tentative efforts to bid up the leaders accomplished little. At the same time, bear traders were not inclined to sell stocks aggressively, perhaps on account of the belief that the extent of the outstanding short interest made such operations hazardous. There were several small swings back and forth, but the day ended with only inconsequential changes.

The form to be taken by the tariff revision bill as finally enacted and its effect upon business conditions remained to be determined. Wall street is also watching with interest though not concerned, California's proposed legislation affecting the Japanese. Although money market conditions are easier, the outlook for extensive new capital requirements which must be met within the next few months is not entirely clear. In view of these conditions, speculative sentiment remains hesitant, with little disposition to take a pronounced position on either side of the market.

There were a few exceptions to the dead level to which most stocks adhered. New Haven once more established a low record, setting down 2% to 10%; Canadian Pacific turned weak just before the close, leaving over a point. Some of the tobacco issues showed further heaviness.

THE SENSE OF HEARING.

Range of Sound Waves That Impress the Human Ear.

In the sense of hearing numerous problems have interested the experimental psychologist. Among these may be mentioned the range of sounds that can be heard by an individual—that is, the limit both above and below which no sound can be heard. The solution of these two problems, the determination of the upper and lower limit of sound, has occasioned a great deal of careful work and the construction of many forms of apparatus.

For determining the upper limit of sound for any individual—and individuals differ considerably—the Galton whistle is generally used. It consists of a tiny pipe, which is lengthened or shortened by a piston adjusted by a micrometer screw. This little instrument can be regulated to make a tone which is too high for any human ear to hear and which will finally produce only a painful sensation.

The Galton whistle was devised by Francis Galton for his study of individual differences. He had one of the whistles built into the end of his cane, and as he walked through the zoological gardens he would blow it near the ears of the various animals. He adjusted the whistle too high for his own ear to hear, and if the various animals responded to the sound he knew that their upper limit was greater than that of the human ear.

The ordinary human ear can detect a tone whose vibration rate is at least 25,000 vibrations per second, while the whistle will produce 50,000 per second. This upper limit varies with the age of the individual to such an extent that, if the upper limit at sixteen years of age were 50,000 vibrations, at sixty years of age it would be about 25,000 per second.—Strand Magazine.

MUTUAL IGNORANCE.

Quaint Story of Dumas and Scribe, the Playwright.

Sardou had his eyes opened by the plays of Scribe. At that day it was the fashion among the younger literary men to sneer at Scribe—as it is today, by the way, to sneer at Sardou. Scribe was called a "potboiler," a maker of mechanical plays, a man who wrote scenes to fit scenery and a maker of plots rather than of plays. Appalling tales were told of him by unsuccessful playwrights. It was whispered that he sucked the brains of other men, purchased ideas, revamped them and thus acquired the large fortune which he was then enjoying.

How they accounted for the fact that with the ideas of unsuccessful playwrights he made successful plays tradition does not tell. But all were agreed that Scribe was mediocre, that his success was accidental and that he was a miser. Albert Wolff gives these details of the opinions held with regard to Scribe in the fifties and adds this anecdote:

"The only influential man I knew in Paris," said Sardou, "was Dumas the elder. One day I said to him, 'Won't you give me a letter of introduction to Scribe, the playwright?' 'Scribe,' said the great romancer—'who is Scribe? I never heard of him.' I sighed and determined to see Scribe without a letter. So I called at his house that very day and was at once received. 'Pardon my intrusion,' I said, 'but I had expected to bring a letter of introduction to you from M. Alexandre Dumas, the celebrated romancer.' 'Dumas?' interrupted Scribe. 'Never heard of him. Who is Dumas?'—From Jerome A. Hart's 'Sardou and the Sardou Plays.'

Potatoes and Power.

One foresees the triumph of the potato, unforeseen by William Cobbett, not so much as a food, but as a means of motion. Coal is giving out; petrol is going up in price and down in production. The supply of both is limited and must come to an end, but there comes the cheer that alcohol will be the motive force of the future. Petrol and coal may give out, but the earth will always grow potatoes. Potatoes can produce alcohol, and alcohol can drive engines. In the potato we seem to have discovered the secret of perpetual motion.—London Chronicle.

Horsepower of a Lightning Flash.

The "horsepower" of a bolt of lightning which struck a house in Hesse last summer has been calculated by a German scientist at no less than 50,000. The calculation was based upon the fact that the lightning instantly melted two large nails. An electric current of 200 amperes and 20,000 volts might, it is said, have accomplished the work in one second, but the lightning did it in a very small fraction of a second.

Switched Him Off.

"I am not rich like you," said the young man, "but I am young, strong and willing to work. May I speak to your father?"

"Why not?" said the heiress. "He is constantly hiring young men with just such qualifications as you enumerate."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Placing the Villain.

Critics—Who is the villain of that new play at the Hammer theater? Writings—I'm not quite sure, but it must be either the man who wrote it or the man who produced it.—Chicago News.

DUNNE RECOMMENDS COMBINING BRANCHES

WOULD GIVE ON ECOMMISSION CHARGE OF FISH AND GAME.

In Special Message to Legislature Says Investigation Shows Waste and Extravagance of Public Money.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Gentlemen of the forty-eighth general assembly:

An investigation of the fish and game departments of the state government, made at my direction by the state civil service commission, has shown a condition to exist of waste and extravagance in the expenditure of public money, coupled with almost utter failure properly to enforce the fish and game laws and a serious neglect to conserve great natural resources of the state. The extent of the public wealth in Illinois river fishing grounds is not generally known. It is estimated that the value of fish yielded by the river, which in 1908, according to census reports was $900,000.00, has increased to more than $1,500,000 annually. The value of the game which the state laws seek to protect is also great, though incomparable with the fish product commercially. In the great fishing grounds of the Illinois the state has a natural resource which will increase in value tremendously as food prices become higher and which should be conserved by wise laws firmly and impartially enforced. Our present laws are not enforced. Owing to this, the destruction of commercial fish has reached a scale that is alarming. Unless it is permanently checked the Illinois river will eventually cease to be a great natural asset. There is also need of some intelligent effort directed by scientific minds to provide spawning grounds and fish hatcheries which will insure the continuance of the fish supply, and this need the present system makes no attempt to meet.

Radical Action Requested.

Immediate and radical action is required to reorganize both the fish and the game departments on a basis which will insure enforcement of the laws and protection of our valuable game and fish. In my judgment this can best be accomplished by the consolidation of the two departments and the creation of a game and fish conservation commission, with authority to appoint wardens who shall have jurisdiction in the enforcement of all laws relating to both subjects. In practically every other state of the union such consolidation was long ago effected and it is my opinion that the same consolidation should take place here.

Not only will such consolidation effect a substantial saving in money but by reorganizing the system of wardens and deputy wardens, by disposing of the expensive and impractical fish boat, the steamer Illinois, and by substituting inexpensive and useful launch patrols, and by abolishing the game farm at Auburn or conducting it in an economical manner for the propagation of game birds which may add to the natural wealth of the state, the money which is expended can be made to accomplish a great amount of real good where now it accomplishes little or nothing.

As organized at present the game department consists of a game commissioner, who is paid $4,700.00 a year, including all of his various salaries and expenses; 100 deputy wardens, who are paid $2.00 a day and expenses, and special deputy game wardens without compensation except for a share in fines which they may have imposed. I am reliably informed there are in the neighborhood of 500 of these special deputies in Cook county alone.

The fish department consists of a commissioner and chief warden, who is paid $175.00 a month and expenses in this dual capacity; two commissioners, who are paid $100 a month and expenses; seven district fish wardens, who are paid $75 a month and expenses, and forty-five deputy fish wardens, who are paid $2.00 a day and expenses.

Efficiency of Service Doubtful.

In the report of the civil service commission, facts are cited which cause grave doubt as to whether the employees in either of these departments give any efficient service to the state. Further facts regarding failure to enforce laws, waste of money in the game farm and on the fish boat, prevalence of frauds, per diem claims and expense accounts, and the entire absence of any intelligent and constructive effort to conserve the public wealth in either fish or game, are given in detail in the report of the civil service commission and in the reports of audits of these departments conducted under the direction of the state and department auditor, all of which are herewith transmitted.

I recommend that a bill be passed abolishing both fish and game departments as they now exist and substituting therefor a game and fish conservation commission, to be composed of three commissioners, the president to be the executive officer and to be paid $5,000.00 a year, and the remaining two commissioners to be persons of scientific attainments, versed in the biology of fish and game, to be paid $2,500.00 a year each.

I recommend that under the direction of this commission a force of six wardens at $1,500.00 a year each and sixty deputy wardens at $1,200 a year each shall be employed continually in the enforcement of the conservation laws, and that in such seasons as extra service is required, not more than sixty deputy wardens may be appointed temporarily at $100.00 a month each.

I recommend further that in adopting the bill for such reorganization and consolidation, particular attention shall be given to the drafting of wise and effective measures for the conservation of commercial fishing as well as for the protection of the interests of sportsmen, and that in consideration of these measures the advice of scientific experts shall be consulted. Respectfully submitted, Edward F. Dunne, Governor.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only, and Jacksonville People Appreciate This. Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disorder kidneys. Here is Jacksonville evidence to prove their worth. Mrs. A. Taylor, 680 South West street, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "In view of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, I can recommend them for the purposes advertised. I took this remedy for trouble with the kidney secretions and attacks of back ache. I was relieved in a short time."

"When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Taylor had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

WHO HAS THE BANK.

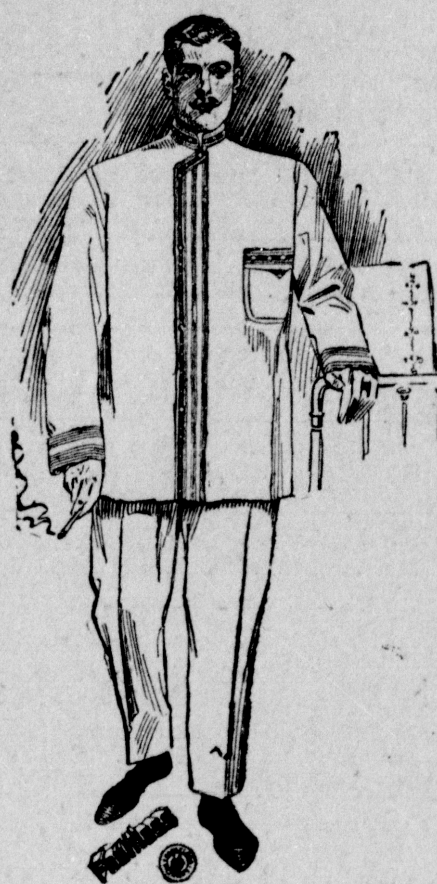

Monday morning when the house occupied by Charles Jackson on South West street was on fire, quite a number of kind hearted persons assisted in removing the household goods outside the burning building, for this the family are duly thankful. Someone, probably through forgetfulness, failed to put with the other goods a child's toy bank which contained a sum remembered as $12 and this is to suggest the idea that it's return would be greatly appreciated.

CONGRESS OF MOTHERS.
Although the state Congress of Mothers is to meet in this city May 7-8-9, the local committee has not yet received a copy of the program nor has information been given of the number of delegates to be expected. However, the facts desired will no doubt be forthcoming at an early day. Lieut. Gov. O'Hara is to make one of the principal addresses. While in the city he will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. CONFUSION OF NAMES.
Through an error which is very much regretted the Journal recently stated that there is a case in the county court pending against Sylvanus Scott for wife abandonment. The name should have been given as Sylvanus McDaniel. The people who know Mr. Scott were of course aware that the item was incorrect, as no man is held in higher esteem than he, in this community, but the Journal regrets the confusion of names.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE OPENS BASE BALL SEASON TODAY

Local Nine, Will Be Seen in Initial Game of Season With Shurtleff College of Alton As Opponent.

Baseball will be opened in Jacksonville to day when Illinois college meets Shurtleff college this afternoon at 3:30 on the college diamond. This will be the initial game for Illinois and the outcome of the contest in a great measure is problematic. The late rains prevented the team from getting into shape, but nevertheless the warm days have afforded an opportunity to hammer up and Coach Harmon is going to give the visitors an interesting line up. Only four men on the regular team of last year, Darragh, Jaccard, Apple and Widenham are in school and just what the new men will do under fire is uncertain. If they work as well in the contest to day as in practice, they will succeed in worrying the Altonites not a little.

Shurtleff has a good team and they are in the pink of condition. It is practically the same team as last year with Snodgrass and Johnson as the batteries. About two weeks ago Shurtleff had a game with Christian Brothers college of St. Louis and the C. B. C. won by a score of 11 to 10. The contest was a hard hitting and close fielding engagement. Shurtleff is strong in the box, while Illinois' pitchers are X quantities.

Illinois' lineup follows:
Center—Darragh, (Capt.)
First base—Atchison.
Second base—Furr.
Short stop—Stewart.
Third base—Jaccard.
Left Field—Apple.
Center Field—Pierce.
Right Field—Widenham.
Pitchers—Wheeler, Tandy, Johnson.

John Hagel will act as umpire.

Hedding Has Strong Team.
One of strongest teams which Illinois college will play this season is Hedding and Vashdi. When they defeated Abingdon by a score of 13 to 4. Or last season's team seven veterans are again in the lineup, and four of them, Thompson, secondbase; Durston, catcher; Histed pitcher and James, centerfield were selected as members of the All-State team in 1912. Jerry Clark, who was a star of the 1911 team, is again in the school and Morehead, a pitcher from Hedding college and McKee, who was a member of the "All Navy" team last season are members of the squad. George Clark the famous short stop who has been out on account of illness is fast rounding into shape. Illinois college two games with this fast bunch and their schedule is as follows:

April 24.—Hedding college at Alton.
May 2.—Augustana college at Alton.
May 10.—Lombard college at Alton.
May 14.—Illinois college at Jacksonville.
May 15.—Millikin university at Decatur.
May 16.—Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington.
May 20.—Augustana college at Rock Island.
May 23.—Illinois college at Alton.
May 30.—Bradley Polytechnic institute at Illinois.

IS VISITING PASTORATES OF FORMER YEARS.

Rev. A. M. Dancley of Urbana Guest

At Grace M. E. Church Service. The members of Grace M. E. church were delighted Wednesday night at their prayer service to have as their guest of honor Rev. A. M. Dancley of Urbana. Rev. Mr. Dancley was a resident of Jacksonville 20 years ago being pastor of the Jacksonville circuit and the West Jacksonville circuit. He led the prayer service in a most impressive manner, bringing forth from the scriptures some valuable lessons gleaned from his long and useful life in the ministry.

Rev. Mr. Dancley is now visiting the places where he formerly preached and is being cordially greeted by his many friends. He was received on trial in the Illinois conference 1871-2 preaching at Lima. His other charges were 1873 Quincy Mission; 1874-5, Astoria; 1876-7, Augusta; 1878, Versailles; 1879-80, Barry; 1881-83, Columbus; 1884-6, Lincoln; 1887-90, Jacksonville Circuit; 1891-3, West Jacksonville; 1894-7, Decatur Circuit; 1898-9, President of Chaddock College, Quincy; 1900-1, Champaign Circuit; 1902-3 supernumerary; 1904, supernumerary.

HAS INCREASED POSTAL BUSINESS.

During the fiscal year ending March 31, patrons of the postoffice at Pittsfield spent $9,595.95 for stamps, this being the total revenue of the office, according to an item in the Pike County Republican, which sets forth that had the people spent $500 more for stamps the office would have passed the $10,000 mark. This would have entitled the town to free mail delivery, a post-office building and a number of other improvements. The article states that the figures show a rapid increase in business of late years and expresses the hope that this year the receipts will pass the amount required to give them the improvements.

The entertainment for the evening consisted of a school, with T. J. Beadles as teacher and at the roll call those present answered by the nickname by which they were known when they attended school. This feature caused no little amusement and the names of the persons with the nicknames given follow: James Mutch, Jimmy; Edgar Blakeman, Blakey; Mabel Jones, Johnny; Lois Cunningham, Smiles; Margaret Hart Madge; Nell Rimbey, Stella Lovell; Nell Wright, Mrs. T. J. Beadles, Star; Mildred Wright, Midge; Sarah Jones Sallie; Vera Blimling, Bird; Mrs. Fred Simpson, Topsy; Mildred Jones, Tommy; Edna Cook, Cooky; Clarence Cunningham, Cuning; Elmer Sooy, Sissy; Covington Jones, Casey; Jennings, Jingle; Roscoe Beadles, Archibald; Floyd Mutch, Jacob; Fred Still, Joe; Warren Seymour, Shoeney; Charles Wright, Chuck; Fred Simpson, Doc; Edna Ramsey, Ted; T. The roll call was followed by a song "School Days", after which classes were held, the winner in Geography, Roscoe Beadles; and in Arithmetic, Miss Mildred Wright, were awarded prizes. At recess lemonade was served from a large bucket and dipper, after which spelling, drawing and zoology classes were held. When school was dismissed refreshments were served, closing a very enjoyable evening.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Louise Kotha of Indianapolis, Ind., to Louis Earl Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lancaster of Virginia, the wedding to take place at Indianapolis Monday evening, May 5.

WILL MEET IN ALTON.

G. A. R. Encampment To Be Held May 20-22.

The Illinois G. A. R. encampment will be held in Alton May 20, 21 and 22, and the encampment committee of Alton are sparing no means to make the event one of the most enjoyable and elaborate occasions ever held in the state. Within the next few days there will be a call for the residents of the city to enlist in the work of securing homes where the veterans may be entertained while in the city. The executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. voted unanimously to turn over the building to the G. A. R. delegates during the three days the encampment is held there and besides meeting places there will be provided sleeping quarters for 150 men in the building. In the ranks of the old soldiers from one end of the state to the other there is a feeling that this may be the last encampment that they will be able to attend. The ranks are being fast depleted. The fifty two years intervening between the time of enlistment and this encampment has told upon the men who answered the call in arms in civil strife of 1861.

Letters are pouring in from every part of the state from the soldiers who are advising the committee to spare no means in making the entertainment of the comrades hospitably and graciously.

PARENT-TEACHER'S MEETING HELD AT MORTON SCHOOL

Address on "Debt of State to the Church" is Given by Rev. Hy S. Alkire—Election of Officers.

A parent-teachers' meeting was held at the Morton school Wednesday afternoon, which was largely attended. The address of the afternoon was by Rev. Hy S. Alkire, pastor of Brooklyn M. E. church, on the subject, "The Debt of the State to the Church." Music was furnished by the High School band, with Prin. W. A. Gore as leader. As this was the last meeting of the year the annual election of officers was held as follows:

President—Mrs. Thomas Buckthorpe; Vice-president—Miss Elizabeth Higley; Secretary and treasurer—Mrs. C. A. Patten.

Rev. Mr. Alkire in his address pointed out the fact that the church has always stood for the highest ideals in education and the pure standard of citizenship, for the highest in the moral life and a square deal. It has been the vanguard of reforms and progress. Parents often dodge the issue by not teaching their children the relation of the church in all these matters. The parents do not let their children choose in education, in society, politics, matrimony, business or professional lines and they ought to be just as careful in teaching them the great principles for which the church stands. The church had schools and colleges a long time before the state ever fostered them, and in as much as the church has stood for these things the state should encourage the study of the bible in every way possible and of the truths of christianity.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE JUMPING BOARD BILL.

Charles Carleton, a one-legged man, was arrested Wednesday by Sergeant Frank Kiloran on a warrant sworn out by C. G. Cannon, charging him with jumping a board bill. It seems that the prisoner has been going around soliciting subscriptions for the purpose of purchasing an artificial limb, carrying a book on which each donation is entered. The book shows that in the past few weeks he has collected $201.70, and in a few days in this city $14.35. Some time ago the man was in this city when it is said that he collected $10 and it was at this time that Mr. Cannon alleged he left without paying his board. He was sent to jail pending a preliminary hearing before Squire Dyer.
